AV Equipment Grant Made

by Brenda Valentine

Federal grants amounting to $43,512 for instructional equipment have been made available for the 1971-72 academic year. THESE AMOUNTS will be matched 50 percent by the University.

In a teacher training program, it is a helpful experience for a student to be able to see and hear himself as others see him while he is teaching. At present, the University has no equipment to make this possible. Prospective teachers only get indirect feedback from the observations of others.

THE $18,052 will aid in the acquisition of video tape recorders and related equipment needed for their operation. This will provide a basis for self-improvement which cannot be obtained in any other way.

The remainder, $25,460 will be used for equipment in en- (See page 8, Col. 1)

Campus Radio Station Takes New Manager

Robert L. Todd, assistant professor of English, has been named manager of the new educational FM radio station, Dr. Robert O. Riggs, director of educational development and research, announced.

Robert L. Todd

MR. TODD WILL assume the duties on a part-time basis during the summer when the station, tentatively designated as WUTM, will initiate broadcast services. Charles Wingate, an engineer at ITV, will serve as chief engineer.

According to Dr. Riggs, the 10-watt non-commercial educational radio station will have a broadcast radius of eight to 15 miles. Its primary audience will be the campus.

PRIOR TO JOINING the English staff in 1964, Mr. Todd taught high school drama and speech in Alachua, Florida, and served as a graduate assistant at Memphis State where he received his master's. He earned a bachelor's degree at Union.

5 Of 7 Sports Teams Post Winning Records

Winning records posted by five of the seven intercollegiate athletic teams boosted the school's overall sports program.

Combining all activity, teams recorded 65 victories against 55 defeats, and a single tie. It started last September when the football squad (7-3-0) bounced back from two setbacks in its opening three games to set a school record, winning the last six regular season contests. The team finished second in the M-SAC, and was recognized as one of the top fifty college division teams in the nation.

Basketball, faced with a rebuilding year, could muster only a 3-20 record, but rapid progress is underway to see that such a season does not repeat itself. Bob Paynter, newly appointed head coach, has recruited six standout prep players to filter into next year's lineup with hopes of building a winner.

In only its second year of competition in the Southeastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association, the grapplers posted a 5-4 record and drew praise as "one of the best second-year mat teams in the South."

Spring sports teams posted the best win-loss record in the history of the institution. Baseball (30-15) and golf (12-5-1) led the race with VSAC championships and bids to participate in the NCAA national tournaments. Baseball finished fourth in the NCAA Mid-East Regionals played May 20-23 at Marietta, Ohio, and the linksmen are making plans to journey to Chico, California, for the national tournament June 15-18.

Although track was winless (0-10), the team finished a re- (See page 8, Col. 2)

Family Donates To Archives

A major collection was added to the University archives last week as a 120 volume set of "The Official Records of the Civil War" was donated.

THE FAMILY of Janet Davidson, a graduating senior from Nashville, gave the collection which will be placed in the library. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wyl Davidson of 304 Leopold Road, Nashville.

This collection is of great value to the History and Political Science Department, it says, as it contains original materials that will be used for research in the history of the Civil War.

law enforcement program

The Law Enforcement Education Program was approved Monday by THEC. All students interested in majoring in law enforcement meet in the Sociology Seminar room Friday, May 28 at 2:00 or 3:00.

A Health Management Program was also approved. For information see Dr. Norman Campbell.

Lawyers Will Say How 18-Year-Olds Will Affect Campuses: Boling

By WILLIAM MALLARD

As the school year draws to an end many meetings and other obligations have been winding down.

Among some of these important meetings we have faced in the last few weeks a mounting interest in the new 18 year old responsibility law. Steve Becker, Bill Rosson, and I met this past weekend with Dr. Boling and representatives of the other U.T. campuses. Dr. Boling said he did not know how the 18 year old bill would affect our campuses and added that he would have to wait and see what the university lawyers come up with.

The UT budget was also a topic of discussion. UTM lost $270,000 in the budget cut under the operating budget. In the capital outlay the renovation of the ABL Building was cut out also.

Housing and new types of housing were discussed to some detail also. The main topic concerned arrangements for first-quarter freshmen.

On yet another topic, the delegates interjected the possibility of having students represented on the Board of (See page 8, Col. 2)

Reckless Drivers Cause Problem, Thefts Occur

Reckless driving and other driving offenses are becoming a campus problem.

ALL WHO ARE charged on these counts will be turned over to city police and required to post bond at city hall, Lt. Homer Palmer announced.

Good students and good driving records go together, according to a large auto insurance company. Claims statistics analyzed by the company indicate that young men drivers who achieve better grades in school have driving records clearly 25 to 30 per cent better than counterparts with poorer grades.

"In the last couple of weeks we've had three or four reckless and improper driving cases. This is a serious charge and could lead to a bad accident since there are so many pedestrians," Palmer said.

CAMPUS POLICE are investigating the May 18 theft of a tape player and 10-15 tapes from a car belonging to student Martha Cary. The 1969 red and black Oldsmobile was left in G-H parking lot about 9:15 PM. The next morning the player and tapes were missing.

Thieves had used a coat hanger to open the door. The doors had been locked, but were (See page 8, Col. 1)

Vets And Cadets Take Rap For Free Citizens

The other day I heard a student say, "I'm an American, but I'll never go into the service!"

ANOTHER student nodded his approval.

How fortunate that not every young person or college student feels this way. If every young American refused to enter the armed forces, this nation of ours, along with its precious freedom and luxuries, would cease to exist. A review of history clearly shows that without a strong deterrent military forces, the United States would soon succumb to its enemy, a totalitarian power which seeks to conquer the entire world.

DURING MY years at this institution, I have had the privilege to know many veterans and ROTC advanced cadets. These individuals come from different parts of the country and have different backgrounds, different ideas of life in general, and different concepts about the way this nation should be managed.

However, these groups have one thing in common. In effect, they have entered, or will enter, into the military service so that the other students on this campus will not have so. If these groups had not made their decision to serve their country, then others, including some students at this university, would have to serve in their places.

TRUE, MANY of these individuals, if there was a choice, would not choose to serve. But, when called, did these people take off for Canada or Sweden to avoid induction?

The next time you see a man or woman in uniform, or a veteran, or an advanced ROTC cadet, don't try to make your ego feel big by laughing at the person. Treat him with respect and maybe you should tell him, "Thanks!"

IF IT WASN'T for that person, you might not be able to take this country for granted, cut classes, play cards in the snack bar, or even obtain an education.

Population, Resources Jive?

Trained Ecologists warn of impending danger if resources and population are not more closely matched.

"THE REDUCTIONS IN the number of animal species is usually very harsh and could possibly lead to its eradication because of disease, pestilence, predation, or aggressive competitors," Dr. Ted James of the Biology Department, said.

It is true that man has succeeded in increasing both the space he occupies and its carrying capacity. It has been made very clear, however, that both have definite limits which he can approach only at great hazard.

WE MUST CAREFULLY assess and reassess these limits so that future generations, as well as this one, will have the necessary resources for a comfortable life.

The resources have to be distributed so a major catastrophe will not limit population density. Few animal species ever multiply enough to tax their food supply under natural conditions.

"MAN HAS BEEN and is being slowly forced to adapt to his own ecosystem (physical environment and biological components) - because he cannot operate separately from it.

The quality of the American way of life, which has flexibility of choice and freedom of action, is endangered by the demands of an expanding economy and population."

THIS HAPPENS:

- (1) through restrictive and harmful effects of pollution;
- (2) through the increasing frequency and complexity of unconstructive but unavoidable human contacts;
- (3) through the necessary increase laws to govern the use of and competition for our resources, space, transportation, housing, and even education facilities.

In addition to energy, mineral and food resources, and the quantity and quality of the human resource itself, this is a critical component of our system.

MAN'S BEST INTERESTS beg for a more bountiful attitude toward nature and less materialistic measures of well-being and success.

Parking Still A Problem

Inconsistency is the usual explanation of the Safety and Security Office concerning its somewhat haphazard distribution of traffic violations, particularly parking.

WHAT IS illegal one hour is evidently not the next. Cars parked in illegal-in cases, extra-legal, or even more, debatable places--areas get tickets only by chance. One literally gambles he will not get a ticket for leaving a vehicle even in yellow line areas.

Some faculty members have complained they are on occasion forced to find illegal places--and they are in short supply in most of the crowded lots--because students have already occupied their slots. This is a very legitimate gripe.

PROFESSORS who have to pay fines for students who do not is too much of an irony to education. Walking to the S and S office to pay a fine and passing several illegally parked vehicles is more than an exercise in frustration. It is simple injustice.

Personnel shortage is the counter charge of the S and S. This causes it "inconsistencies." Other areas of the staff seem to expand pretty much as needed.

Letters To The Editor
Nixon Boosts Senior Class

President Richard M. Nixon addressed the following to the 1971 graduates of UTM:

The continued success of the American Experiment depends primarily on the qualities of heart, mind, and spirit of our young people.

As college graduates you have not only the training and idealism, but the opportunity and responsibility to build through further study or through your chosen careers the kind of society which will make further generations proud to identify with your accomplishments.

I KNOW THAT you will not fail to become part of a positive response to the needs of America: a response worthy of her resources and capacities; worthy of the historic courage and the wisdom and will of her people. Your studies have given you the tools to dedicate yourselves in a very special way to helping overcome some of the most difficult problems we face; and as you become further involved in these efforts, you will continue to discover more examples of the ways in which the complexities of modern life make it imperative for us to work together.

THE DESTINY of our nation is not divided into yours and ours. We share it. There can be no generation gap in America. We must all keep an open mind and forthright spirit, balance the courage of our convictions with the courage of our uncertainties, triumph over bigotry and prejudice and recapture the unity of purpose that has always been our strength.

YOUR FRESH IDEAS and candid approach can be a strong deterrent to division and a valuable asset in building the alliance of the generations we so urgently need if we are to advance the cause we share. As I congratulate you on this graduation day, I do so in full confidence that you will answer this need both in your careers and in your daily lives.

Congratulates
Opera Theatre

Dear Editor:

This letter is written to commend Miss Marilyn Jewett and her entire staff and crew on the fine performance given by the Opera Theatre last Friday. I have attended most of these offerings and this is the first time that these amateur voices were, almost without exception, completely suited to their respective roles.

To neglect mentioning the tasteful sets of Mr. Clarence Blanchette and his hardworking crew would be to omit half of the evening's enjoyment.

My disappointment in the evening was the usual one at UTM - THE SPARSE ATTENDANCE!! When are both our students and staff going to realize that this is one of the few institutions in the nation where such things (and many more) are offered to them "FREE!!"

Complaints abound on this campus about it and Martin's being "dullsville."

I echo one of my present students: L

"Are you sure you're not Martin's problem?"

Again -- cheers to Opera Theatre!

Knox Paper

Dear Editor:

The front page of the May 11 issue of the UT Daily Beacon contains a blatant error which I wish to correct.

Since I was present at the governor's forum (sitting immediately behind the Beacon's reporter), and since I made and now have a tape recording of the question-answer period, I can say positively that I was the one who questioned the governor on the bill then pending to give 18-year-olds the "legal rights of adulthood." (They already had voting power, as Huddleston mentioned.)

Huddleston did not ask the governor a question at all. He did, however, try to "make a point." The point he tried to make was that the UT delegation could succeed in disrupting the entire affair.

Your article on the meeting, on page four of the same issue, makes no mention of Huddleston's true actions. I do not condemn you for this, since they only succeeded in disgracing the University of Tennessee in the eyes of a large majority of those present (student leaders and editors from other schools across the state).

Huddleston monopolized several minutes of time allotted for the conference to make an emotional appeal for everyone to "stand up" and "show the governor of this state that we are going to change this society before we destroy ourselves."

"I come from a school of over 20,000 students," he said. "There are certain things that we as young people speak out against and we're going to speak out against them here!"

Following a weak, short, and off-key rendition of "All we are saying is give peace a chance" by the UT delegation, the meeting was capably led by Gov. Dunn back to normal, rational, and productive discussion.

It wasn't necessary for the Beacon to report these actions. If you wanted to use the picture of Huddleston and Dunn on the front page, fine. But why print lies beneath it?

Dedication Of Fine Arts Climaxes Festival Series

This year has probably been the best our fine arts department has ever had.

AND IT will come to a climax Friday with the formal dedication of our new fine arts Building climaxing a year-long series of dedicatory events.

Pianist-in-residence, Allison Nelson, gave the opening concert to a capacity audience of over 500 October 6.

COMMISSIONED works for the "Festival of Arts" which has preceded this event include "The Eve Of St. Agnes," written by Edward Madden and performed by the Symphonic Band under the direction of Robert C. Fleming. The Choralairs under the direction of John Matheson premiered "And Nature Shall Be Healed" March 8, written by Paul Holmes, another commissioned worker.

April 22 Allison Nelson and Joyce Crane presented a piano duet written for the festival by Bernard Heiden. Also at that concert was presented a composition for brass and percussion written by Gilbert Carp.

FRIDAY AND Saturday the Opera Workshop presented "Four Fables" a one-act opera written by Ned Rorem and directed by Marilyn Jewett.

The formal dedication begins Friday at 4 p.m. with an open house lasting till 6 p.m. Three art exhibits will hang in the central foyer and upper gallery. Featured in the exhibition will be works by watercolorist Hugh Bailey of UT Knoxville, paintings on "The Origin of Modern Art" from the National Gallery of Art in Washington, and work from the Tennessee Teachers Art Commission which includes work by Tennessee College art teachers and students.

FOLLOWING the open house will be a buffet dinner and the formal dedication ceremonies which are by invitation only. An estimated 1500 people are expected. The Sinfonians and the Fine Arts Trio will provide dinner music.

Dr. Edward Boling will present the building to Chancellor Archie Dykes who will in turn present it to the students.

Campus Gets Phi K Phi Chapter

A chapter of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society was installed here last Friday.

"UTM'S QUALIFYING for a chapter of Phi Kappa Phi is a great tribute to the diligent efforts and fine scholastic records of the administrators, faculty members and students," Chancellor Archie R. Dykes, member of the society since 1959, said. "It represents a significant step in the quest for academic excellence by the University of Tennessee at Martin."

At the afternoon ceremonies, 11 petitioners were presented a charter by Dr. Albertine Krohn, professor of chemistry at the University of Toledo and regional vice president of Phi Kappa Phi. Eighteen former members joined the Martin chapter, and 86 faculty members and administrators and 53 students were initiated.

INSTALLED AS officers were Dr. William H. Baker, dean of the School of Business Administration, president; Mrs. Sandra Gossum, assistant professor of mathematics, secretary; Miss Bettye Giles, associate professor of physical education, treasurer; and Mr. James Spears, assistant professor of English, and Mr. Wayne Tansil, director of public relations and publications, public relations officer.

Dixie Patriot Ranks Tops Among Relic Collectors

By LARRY PHILLIPS

A mania for collecting historical items combined with an intense love for the South has made Terry Walker, junior social studies major, one of the region's biggest collectors of Confederate relics.

Most 21-year-old students would be satisfied with this, but not Terry. He looks forward to buying a $500 Confederate States Marine buckle to add to his collection. The most unusual item in exhibit is an 1849 slave bill of sale for a 7-year-old Wilson County, Tennessee girl who was sold for $600.

REBEL UNIFORM in excellent condition is valued at $1500. The drummer boy's costume, which he bought from an old lady in Columbia, South Carolina, has an inside tag which lists William Elliott, 67 Main Street, Richmond, Virginia as the owner.

Also in the collection are a copy of "Stonewall Jackson's Prayer" in sheet music and a Confederate reunion pin found in an old house in Union City.

AT ABOUT 5 feet 9 inches tall, medium build, and wearing a dark mustache, he seems just like an average student. But one notices he often wears a tailormade Confederate Calvary fatigue jacket, gray with yellow border, with CSA stamped on its brass buttons.

The jacket gives a clue to his intense interest in Dixie. "I'VE PROBABLY had more luck than most people at collecting," Terry said. His 12 years of reincarnating the Old South have put him ahead of older collectors.

"I also have Indian relics, rare books such as a Civil War Tennessee Roll of Honor, and several Nazi items," he says. "But I plan to put even more stress on the Confederacy. I keep in touch with people all over the area who want to trade with me."

HE CITED THE greatly increased prices of the relics as one reason for the high interest. A Confederate sword which sold for $5 in 1941 now brings $200 and won't be on the market in ten years. The Centennial observance which ended in 1965 was a price-booster.

He drives a 1971 red coupe de Ville Cadillac with license plate number 007 which enhances his image as a successful trader.

PROFESSOR JOHN Wittenburg, Tennessee History instructor here, praised Terry for his interest in historical items.

Manning Heads Sports Camp Here

A sports camp for junior high and high school boys, the first of its kind to be offered in West Tennessee, will be held here June 20-26.

ACCORDING TO Robert Carroll, camp director and head football coach, several athletic activities will be offered during the university-sponsored program. They include swimming, golf, tennis, weight lifting, softball, basketball, volleyball, and handball, with emphasis on the camp being placed on individualized instruction in the fundamentals and techniques used in football.

"An innovation in athletic camps, the program will emphasize the development of individual skills in all sports," Coach Carroll said. "Each camper will have the opportunity to receive personalized instruction in all phases of the sports to be offered."

HEADING THE teaching staff are All-American quarterback Archie Manning, Ole Miss, and former All-American Julian Nunamaker of the NFL Buffalo Bills. The Pacers coaching staff of Carroll, Ross (See page 8, col. 4)

Linksmen Accept Bid To NCAA Tournament

The golf team became the second Pacer spring sports squad to receive notification that it has been selected to participate in the NCAA's national college division tournaments.

THE BASEBALL team has been invited to play in the NCAA Mid-East Regional tournament at Marietta, Ohio, May 20-22. The national golf tourney will be played at Chico, California, June 15-18, according to golf coach Grover Page.

The invitation marks the third consecutive year that the Pacer linksmen have qualified and been invited to compete in the national tourney. The team finished ninth in the NCAA in 1969 and tenth last year.

ACCORDING TO Coach Page, NCAA national selection chairman Dick Gordon of Ohio Wesleyan has notified seven other NCAA district colleges of their selection to play in the NCAA national tourney. They include Georgia Southern, Louisiana State at New Orleans, Northeast Louisiana, Rollins College, University of South Florida, Southwestern Louisiana, and Madison College.

The Pacer golf team, college division champions of the TIAC and three-time winner of the VSAC, posted a 12-5-1 record in regular season action including wins over university division opponents Austin Peay and Ole Miss. The team lost close matches to Murray State (8-10), U-T Knoxville (394-385) and Memphis State (463-447).

WE ARE HONORED to be invited to play in the NCAA," Coach Page said. "The team has performed well all season against some of the finest college and university division teams in the South. The invitation is well deserved."

In other tournament action this season, the team claimed the runnerup trophy in the Mid-South Classic and finished third overall in the TIAC. Four members of the squad including Lynn Harpole, Ray Scott, Jimmy Knott and Gary Baker were named to the All-State Team.

THEY FINISHED this season with a team average of 78.3 for 18 matches and four 36-hole tourneys. Players and their averages are as follows:

|----------------|---------|
| Ray Scott      | 76.6    |
| Cecil White    | 77.5    |
| Lynn Harpole   | 78.6    |
| Ricky Sharp    | 78.2    |
| Jim Knott      | 78.7    |
| Gary Baker     | 80.5    |
| John Robertson | 82.4    |

Lose two of three in Ohio

Orangemen Fall Short Of Goals

By Dennis Richardson

Coach Swope's baseball team gave up 11 walks in Saturday's game against Louisiana Tech, in the Mid-East Regionals at Marietta, Ohio, and suffered their second loss in the double elimination tournament.

THE ORANGE FELL 8-5 to the same Tech team which had beaten them 9-2 in Thursday's opening round, to finish their winningest season at 30-15.

Friday, the Orangemen beat UT-Chattanooga 11-8, as Richard Fowler was able to go the distance on the mound, and record the win.

HIGHLIGHTS saw Barry Barnett clout three hits, and Mike Fortune two. UT-C led the game 8-7 going into the top of the ninth before the Orange exploded for four runs.

Third baseman Gene Grubough (Gino) blasted a triple after Cliff Sturivant had walked, Bill White substituted as a pinch runner, and Dick Algire (Augie) singled. This scored two runs, and Gino made it three as he was able to score when Mike Donohue hit a shot to the second baseman who fumbled it. Then Randy Horn drew a walk, and Barnett singled, driving in Donohue for the fourth run and a three run lead.

THE MOCS STAGED a threat in their home half of the ninth when the first batter walked. With two men out, a base hit put runners on first and third. The next batter grounded to the mound, though, and Fowler threw him out to end the game and keep hopes alive for a Mid-East crown. Tech ended those hopes the next day when they came back from an earlier defeat at the hands of SIU Edwardsville, who met Central (See page 8, Col. 1.) engineering technology and psychology.

THE ADDITION of upper division laboratory courses as part of the undergraduate psychology major has created a critical need of laboratory equipment essential to an adequate instruction program in these courses.

Implementation of the program in engineering technology has placed an added strain on already inadequate laboratory equipment used in the basic engineering courses. Equipment is badly needed to provide adequate laboratory experience in welding, foundry operations, sheet metal fabrication, and electrical engineering.

Orangemen Fall

The Orange out hit the Mocs 12-8 as Fowler struck out four batters.

IN THE SECOND contest with Louisiana Tech, the Orangemen merged ahead 3-1 at end of an inning. Tech scored a run in the third inning and two runs in the fourth to take a one run lead, 4-3. The Orange scrapped for two runs in the sixth to recapture the lead, 5-4. Tech then scored two in the seventh, and two more in the eighth to grab the final lead, 8-5.

Jack Harlow pitched seven innings, and Mike Coggins relieved the last two innings. Eleven Tech batters reached base via free passes, but their team was out hit 9-8. It seemed everytime a Tech batter came to the plate there was at least two or three runners on board. Any type hit, or the slightest error for that matter, could score fatal runs, and they did.

ELEVEN WALKS, accompanied with eight hits, and a hit batsman, amounts to 20 base runners at the least. Twenty base runners in nine innings is a little more than an average of two runners per inning. That puts a lot of strain on the defense and could easily tire any team out rather quickly. Louisiana Tech didn't beat the Orangemen, the Orangemen beat themselves.

IN OTHER SAFETY and Security action, Jerry Carpenter, bookstore manager, brought a student to the Dean of Students Office and stated he had caught him taking a notebook and two folders valued at $3.85 from the bookstore without paying for them.

The student had placed them on the book shelf from inside the bookstore area, and then went around and picked them up as he left the store.

Trustees. Nothing was decided on this matter.

If anyone has any questions concerning this weekend's meeting with Dr. Boling, feel free to ask me.

The House of Representatives met on May 17 with Art McKinnon introducing a bill providing for representation in the House with each representative having no more than 300 constituents. This would give the House more dorm representation. This amendment passed by a narrow margin.

In other action, the House voted 8-7 to table a bill by Lonnie Hoover which would give more open hours to women in the following fashion: Monday-

Thursday-freshmen 1:00 AM, sophomores-3:00 AM, juniors and seniors-9:00 AM the next morning. Friday-Saturday-freshmen 3:00 AM, sophomores, juniors, and seniors-9:00 AM the next morning.

It was stated in the motion to table that the bill needed to have a survey behind it in order to find out just what the coeds want in the way of liberalized hours.

There will be a Senate meeting tonight at 8 PM in the SGA meeting room.

This meeting is for the newly elected Senators. Be there. I hope everyone does well on their finals and follows up with a very enjoyable summer. See those of you next fall.

Students Perform Fables In Unfavorable Conditions

by Don Hart

The Opera Workshop came of age this past weekend with its presentation of three short operas. The beauty of the costuming and the sets were surpassed only by the skill of the performers. Everyone connected with the presentation of these operas is to be thanked for their talents and imagination. And Miss Marilyn Jewett is especially to be commended for her staging, directing, and costuming of these works.

From the very beginning, the conditions were unfavorable for the production of these Operas. Scenery was hard to visualize, the type of costuming needed was too hot, the stage lift was broken, and the air conditioning for the building would not work. Working under adverse conditions like these is what makes professionals.

The first opera was Ned

Rorems "Four Dialogues." This story was about a very strange relationship between a man and the woman he chooses for his mistress. These characters were played very skillfully by Rita Winter and Gilbert Jones.

The opera is presented in four short scenes which concern themselves with the meeting, loving, living together, and were excused for their crimes, and the defenseless Ass had to pay for the crimes of all.

Mr. Blanchette and his crew deserve a great deal of praise for the regal set of the opera.

The last opera of the evening was Paul Hindesmith's "There and Back." This was the shortest and perhaps the most effective part of the three operas that were presented.

The Opera was supplemented by a ten piece orchestra directed by Mr. Robert Fleming.

Advising HS Papers Subject Of New Course

Weak writing warrants disgust. Effective writing can create revolution.

BOTH KINDS are prevalent in today's college and high school newspapers. Practical experience with a newspaper creates an awareness of the monstrous task of trying to publish accurate and objective news, and it also makes one more aware of how much bad writing goes unnoticed.

Students have something to say, and they're saying it through campus newspapers. Many who graduate and take teaching jobs are faced with the reality that their job doesn't just include teaching but also other things such as advising the high school newspaper.

Two journalism courses--one old and one new--will be offered fall quarter that should be of interest to all education, journalism, and liberal arts majors. These are 3510, Practicum In Journalism and 4810 Journalism in High School. The journalism practicum is a one-hour course which offers supervised practical experience in (a) news-gathering and writing (b) advertising production and selling, or (c) radiotelevision production.

THE VOLETTE encourages all students who are interested in having a better school paper to take this course. By taking Journalism 3510, students can receive the satisfaction of working on the school newspaper while getting one hour of credit for it and gain valuable experience in journalism. The only prerequisite to this course is Journalism 2220.

Journalism in High School is a new course designed specifically to train education majors to advise a student newspaper.

"IT IS ESSENTIAL that the men and women who advise high school papers have the background and knowledge necessary to cope with this tremendous challenge," says Professor Carl H. Giles, instructor of Journalism 4810 and 3510. "There are many high school underground newspapers. This is a result of the high school establishment press not doing an effective editorial job."

Prof. Giles, author of a high school journalism text entitled The Student Journalist And Feature Writing, has an extensive background as a high school and college newspaper advisor. He advised the student paper at Terry Parker High School in Jacksonville, Florida from 1962-64 during which the paper won state and national awards. Also he has been the faculty advisor to this newspaper for the past six years during which it has won five first place awards.

"These courses have practical value that can't always be easily seen in some required courses," Editor Harold Norman said. "Any student interested in working for the newspaper and getting credit for it or any education major should find it worth his while to try to work one or both of these courses into his schedule next fall quarter."

Prof. Giles is the author of seven other books, ranging from a mystery to documentaries.

Elder, Grover Page, Jack Beeler, and Vernon Prather will apply 70 years of combined experience in teaching camps.

The facilities here will be used for the camp. Campers will reside in air-conditioned residence halls and all meals will be served in the University cafeteria. Each athlete will be under the expert supervision of professional counselors.

Thurston Signs Grappler Grant

Mark Thurston, a standout prep wrestler from Upper Saddle River, New Jersey, has signed a grant-in-aid here, according to Richard W. Reiselt, wrestling coach.

THURSTON, 6-1, 160 pounds, competed in the 157-pound class in high school. He was a regional New Jersey champion and maintains a dual meet lifetime record of 51-2-1. He will graduate from Northern Highlands Regional High School in June.

"The addition of Mark to our wrestling team will certainly aid us in developing a top-notch intercollegiate program," Coach Reiselt said. "We look for him to make an instant contribution to the team next fall."

COST FOR THE CAMP including tuition, room board, and insurance is $110. Inquiries should be addressed to Sports Camp, P.O. Box 286, Martin, Tennessee 38237.
